THE EXTRA SESSION.

A Long Communication from the Treasury Department

ON THE SUBJECT OF GOLD AND SILVER

Payments, Presented in the Senate and Read—New Bills Offered in the Senate—Silver Discussion Resumed in Both Houses.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The senate was called over today in the absence of the vice president by Mr. Harris (Conn.) president of the senate pro tem.

A long communication from the treasury on the subject of gold and silver payments was presented and read. It is therein stated that on several occasions recently gold coins have been presented at the treasury in exchange for silver dollars, and that the exchange has not been made because silver dollars were not available to be held in exchange for gold.

At that point the department would not be able to exchange silver dollars for gold if requested to do so.

A motion to adjourn over from today till Monday was made by Mr. Patterson and was rejected by Mr. Hoar and Mr. Frye.

After further discussion the motion to adjourn was withdrawn.

Then Mr. Voorhees from the committee on finance presented a bill to discontinue the purchase of silver coins and gold coins in the treasury of the United States to maintain the parity of gold and silver as standard money.

Mr. Vest, on behalf of the minority of the finance committee, presented a substitute for the bill. The substitute reads the same as the bill in the silver coins of the United States at 100 for a dollar, and proportionately for half dollars quarters and dimes.

The bill and substitute were placed on the calendar, and Mr. Voorhees gave notice that he would call up the bill and address the senate on it Tuesday night.

The bill for the increase of national bank circulation was then taken up and Mr. Allen (Iowa) advocated the adoption of the amendment offered by him last Wednesday—namely to increase the limit on the issue of the increased circulation is based. Nine tenths of the people of Nebraska were, he declared, in favor of the bill.

Mr. Allen then addressed the senate and gave a history of recent developments in the silver question at home and abroad.

Mr. McPherson, a member of the finance committee, argued against the Allen amendment as calculated to defeat the whole measure.

Mr. Mansfield opposed his colleague's amendment and favored the Allen amendment.

Mr. McPherson then addressed the senate and argued in favor of the Allen amendment.

A RIFT IN THE CLOUDS

Paint and Yet Definite Signs of Improvement

IN THE FIELD OF BUSINESS ACTIVITY

And in the Financial Condition of the Country, Based on the Good Sense and Recuperative Power of the People Themselves.

New York, Aug. 19.—E. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, published this morning, says:

"There is a rift in the clouds. Paint and yet definite signs of improvement are all the better because they come not from possibly distant hopes or from monetary forecasts, but from the good sense and recuperative power of the people themselves. Business is trying to get along without artificial aid."

Washington, Aug. 19.—The bank circulation has increased $2,000,000, but the decrease on deposits of national banks alone from May to July 12 was $10,000,000. The bank circulation has increased $2,000,000, but the decrease on deposits of national banks alone from May to July 12 was $10,000,000.

Little money comes back as yet from small businesses of Iowa and other states. The weekly output has been reduced 60 per cent. since May, but large iron and steel works are beginning to resume operations. Though steel has failed and is stopped during the week, it has resumed.

At the Herne Hill track, London, Thursday, the negro who cut the throat of Little Sam Keith, a 10-year-old boy, was lynched by a mob of about 1,500 citizens of Morganfield and Uniontown, Ky.

The hanging occurred in Taylor's woods about a mile from Morganfield. Young Keith was at the Uniontown fair Thursday selling watermelons. Towards evening Walton succeeded in coaxing Keith into a field near the fair grounds. When out of sight of the people Walton cut the boy's throat in a fearful manner and then thrust him of four dollars.

The negro fled and the boy crawling to the fence managed to attract the attention of passers-by by making a pulling or gurgling sound. He was carried into a house at the fair grounds and physicians summoned. Everything was done for the sufferer, but there is small hope of his recovery.

Walton was captured shortly after the outlying and was taken to Morganfield, to which place Keith was taken on a special train. The prisoner was taken to the jail at Uniontown, where he was held until the boy died at 10 o'clock Thursday night.

News of the identification spread quickly. The mob formed quietly, and learning that their prisoner was on the way to the Henderson jail, twenty miles distant, they set out to follow. They came up with the officer and prisoner about a mile from Morganfield, and taking Walton from the carriage, placed a rope around his neck and swung him to a limb.

The negro begged piteously for his life, but did not deny his crime. The rope was tied about the tree and the body left hanging until 8 a. m., when it was cut down and buried in Morganfield. It was then buried in a hole in the ground in a potter's field without a box.

Walton gave several names and residences, but it is believed he is Charles Walton of St. Louis, Mo., or Egypt, Miss. He had the reputation of being mean and bullying.

Sheriff Blue, who was at the Morganfield jail when the mob came up, had the Delaney-Lohr manacles taken to his private residence, fearing the mob would lynch them also. There are seven in this crowd awaiting trial for the murder of Mrs. Abbie Delaney.

Steele, of the postoffice, to-day, that he had been appointed a member of the general reception committee for Grand Army Day at the World's Fair Septem-will be expected to do duty as a member of the reception committee.

Major Steele states that the 25th annual meeting of the society of the Army of the Tennessee will be held at Chicago September 12th and 13th. Gen. Doyle, president of the society, in a recent letter to the Chicago committee said: "I suggest that as it is to be the Fair meeting and outside of our exercises mostly devoted to seeing the Fair, you should not see the society prior to reach all officers of the Old Army, and induce those who have never joined me to come this time, and then kill two birds with one shot. Also make it known that members can join for $10, same as originally, with 10 cents justice was J. G. Holt, a justice of the of the latter have been subpoenaed. The

DROPPED DEAD AT THE GATE

Mrs. Paul G. Faber's Sudden Summons—Native of Germany.

Mrs. Arnoldin Faber, widow of Paul G. Faber, dropped dead this morning about 7 o'clock in the front yard at her home No. 504 East Main street, the first home east of Daniel Moore's residence.
The old lady had been standing at the gate a few moments, when she dropped to the ground. A moment later Mr. En-no, on his way to the lumber yard, saw the deceased apparently sitting on the ground.
Later Mr. Moore came out of the house and saw her lying flat upon the ground dead. Mrs. Moore put a pillow under her head, and then Coroner Ben-dure was summoned. This afternoon the request was held at the home with Dr. H. D. Hall as coroner, and a verdict of death by heart disease was returned.

Daniel Moore testified that he had known Mrs. Faber for about 80 years, and saw her for the last time alive last evening. Had known that deceased had been complaining of heart disease for ten years. Believe she died of heart disease.
Had heard physicians say she had heart disease. I found Mrs. Faber dead inside the gate at 7 o'clock this morning. She was lying on her back with her gold watch stretched out. Think deceased was about 70 years of age. She was a native of Germany. Deceased lived in the house alone. A few weeks ago her sister visited her.

The husband of the deceased died in 1875. He was a native of Germany, and had served in the New York state militia and also in the late war. Up to a short time before his death Mr. Faber was the proprietor of a restaurant on the south side of Central Park. A few weeks ago Mrs. Faber secured a pension of $8 a month and received in one draft about $35. The old lady when she got her pension, and knowing that she had heart trouble, told the neighbors that now that she had got her money she didn't believe she would live long to enjoy it. She had spent less than $10 of the cash. She had $26.70 laid away in her gold watch and chain, and in the little box was also the receipt of expenses for the burial of her husband.

The deceased had no children, only a nephew who is in Germany. She has a brother in Philadelphia, a sister at St.
Louis and a sister at Kansas City.

The house at 504 East Main street where deceased had lived alone for nearly 20 years, is old and out of repair.
She had a life interest in it.

Efforts will be made by the neighbors to communicate with Mrs. Kish at St.
Louis, a sister. It also cannot be reached friends will take charge of the funeral arrangements and prepare for the burial.

of the same city, with a half mile record of 1:14 1/2 and a mile 2:35. J. Wesley Jackson, of Homer, the speediest rider in Champaign county, has also entered.
Among others from a distance are C. T.
Boydson, of Davenport, Iowa, and J. P.
Togarty and C. F. Robinson, of Springfield.

E. B. Coleman and Ward Hinder, of South Bend, Ind., are in the city visiting Frank Coleman, proprietor at the H. Mueller Gun Company's store. Frank is entered others, the three gentlemen will make a

The medal prize for the Decatur meeting have arrived, and are now on exhibition at the H. Mueller Gun Company's establishment on East Main street.

A. A. Billingsley, vice-president of the Illinois L. A. W., who will referee the Decatur races, was written Secretary Mueller asking that a meeting of the wheelmen present be called for on the evening of the races that he may deliver to them a lecture on the L. A. W. and the road question. Mr. Mueller will select a place of meeting and will announce it later.

After Coe and the City.

"You can say for me," said Fred Norman, "that the lost pointer dog which was worth $150 and that I would not take that sum for him if I had him alive to-day. I do not intend to let him down and take such treatment. I had paid the tax on the dog and the tax tag had been lost.
The dog had on a collar with my name deeply cut in it. If the officer had had any doubts he might have been sure that I was all right and have paid the tax on the dog, and drag him to an old wagon, then tie him and repeatedly shoot him as a piece of butchery that I am going to try to lock up. I shall first procure the police man for maliciously destroying my property and I shall next see what I can do. I have hired Attorney Leforge to look after the matter and if there is any chance of recovering the value of that dog I intend to get it."

AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Miss Elizabeth Sherlock.

The sad services attending the funeral and burial of Miss Elizabeth Sherlock were held at the family residence, 1115 North Elm street. Those who came before the hour for the service to begin had an opportunity to look for the last time upon the face and form of the departed, who but a few months ago was a happy and active young woman, the youngest member of the family, and an efficient teacher in the public schools.
Upon the rich white casket and throughout the rooms were many floral tributes of love and sympathy brought by friends.
Children from the schoolrooms where Miss Sherlock taught brought flowers to the house and took a last look at the face of her who in life had been kind to them and had taught them gently and well. Several of the children remained at the house until after the service.
Every room was crowded, and nearly all of the space on the lawn was taken by friends who came late. Rev. S. Rohrer of the Christian church conducted the service. He read part of the elementary chapter of John. The brief services were mainly to the friends and drawing a lesson from the death of the beloved daughter and sister. A tender prayer closed the service. The Misses Addie Ebert and Lucy Keeler and S. H.
Gher and C. N. Brown sang sweetly "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Lead, Kindly Light." The floral committal service was used at the grave in Greenwood, in which Mrs. Fred Shellenbarger, Miss Anna McDonald, Mrs. Bessie and Missie Pitts took part. The pallbearers were E. L. Martin, Ernest Miller, Allison Barnard, Albie Bower, Frank Johnson and Samuel Lehman.
